Dear Members of the Class of 2016,

TODAY IS AN EXCITING DAY for you, for the family and friends who have supported and cheered for you, and for all of us at the Law School. As you head off to whatever lies ahead, please know that you always have a home here at Michigan Law. Alumni are an integral part of what makes our Law School so special, and we hope to count you among those who stay actively connected to Michigan for a lifetime.

Congratulations, and all our best wishes.

RECEPTION

Immediately following in Law Quadrangle

Rebecca Paige Salley

Member, JD Class of 2016

Rebecca Salley is a native of Covington, Louisiana. After graduating from Columbia University with a degree in history, Rebecca served for two years as a litigation paralegal at the Department of Justice, Antitrust Division, in Washington, D.C. At Michigan Law, Rebecca served as managing editor of the Michigan Journal of Race & Law, events chair for the Women Law Students Association, and as a student attorney in the Human Trafficking Clinic. She found a home in the public interest and social justice community at the Law School. After graduation, Rebecca will serve as a judicial clerk for the Hon. Sara Darrow of the U.S. District Court for the Central District of Illinois, before embarking on a career in civil rights litigation.

ANDY RYAN

Brad Meltzer

LSA Class of 1992

Brad Meltzer is the No. 1 New York Times bestselling author of The Inner Circle, The Book of Fate, and eight other thrillers. His forthcoming book is The House of Secrets.

In addition to his fiction novels, Brad is one of the only authors to ever have books on the bestsellers lists for nonfiction (History Decoded), advice (Heroes for My Son and Heroes for My Daughter), children's books (I Am Amelia Earhart and I Am Abraham Lincoln), and even comic books (Justice League of America, for which he won the prestigious Eisner Award).

He also has hosted "Brad Meltzer's Lost History" and "Brad Meltzer's Decoded" on The History Channel. The Hollywood Reporter recently put him on its list of Hollywood's 25 Most Powerful Authors. He graduated from the University of Michigan and Columbia Law School. Most important, Brad still sneaks a Michigan reference in every thriller.

The Victors

(Chorus)

(L. Elbel)/Regents of the University of Michigan

Hail! to the victors valiant
 Hail! to the conqu'ring heroes
 Hail! Hail! to Michigan
 the leaders and best
 Hail! to the victors valiant
 Hail! to the conqu'ring heroes
 Hail! Hail! to Michigan,
 the champions of the West!

The Yellow and Blue (alma mater)

*Please stand during the alma mater

(C. M. Gayley, M. W. Balfe)/Regents of the University of Michigan

Lyrics as sung by The Headnotes

Sing to the colors that float in the light;
 Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!
 Yellow the stars as they ride through the night
 And reel in a rollicking crew;
 Yellow the field where ripens the grain
 And yellow the moon on the harvest wain;
 -Hail!
 Hail to the colors that float in the light
 Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!
 Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!

SPECIAL RECOGNITION

L. HART WRIGHT OUTSTANDING TEACHING AWARD

An annual award presented in recognition of excellence in teaching at the University of Michigan Law School. The recipient is selected by vote of the student body.

Kate Andrias

The Headnotes

The Headnotes perform as an a cappella singing group. The group draws its membership from the Law School student body and boasts a wide repertoire of popular and classical arrangements. The Headnotes can be heard in concert throughout the school year, both on and off the campus.

ONE OF THE MOST COLORFUL FEATURES of an academic procession is the appearance of the graduates and faculty in full academic attire. These caps, gowns, and hoods have long histories, and their patterns and colors have special significance.

The origins of academic dress date back to the 12th and 13th centuries, when universities were taking form. The ordinary dress of the scholar—student or teacher—was the dress of a cleric.

In modern universities, the distinctive mark of a degree is the hood, which in its earliest form was simply an article of clothing; since churches and lecture halls of European universities were cold and drafty, scholars wore their hoods as head coverings. American institutions, unlike those of England and Europe, have adopted a standard code of academic costume. The design of the gown, the color of the tassel on the cap, and the pattern, length, and colors of the hood all have special significance.

Both the associate and bachelor's gowns are closed at the throat and have long, pointed sleeves. The master's gown has oblong sleeves, open at the wrist, tapering at the back in a square cut, which ends in an arc cutaway. The doctor's gown is faced with velvet and has bell-shaped sleeves. Each sleeve carries three bars of velvet or chevrons.

The most colorful part of the costumes is the hood. The color of the velvet trim indicates the department that granted the degree, and the width of the trim corresponds to the level of degree (two, three, and four inches, respectively). The lining, or area inside the velvet, denotes the college or university awarding the degree. Michigan Law juris doctor candidates have purple velvet trim and maize and blue lining.

During the juris doctor degree recognition, recipients receive their hoods from faculty marshals as they enter the stage. After being draped with the hood, they walk across the stage for individual recognition by the dean of the Law School.

University of Michigan Law School Commitment to Integrity

Because the strength of the legal profession depends on the character of its members, during my career as a law student and as a professional after law school, I commit to comport myself honorably and with integrity. Specifically, I promise to maintain high standards of:

Academic conduct in all academic relationships with the Law School and the University; professional conduct while functioning in a lawyer-like capacity during my Law School and professional careers; and personal conduct in all matters that touch or affect the Law School, the University, and their community members and guests.
